said and well deserved. THE St. Louis Post-Dispatch has been making some curious calculations about the elections, one of which proves that President to President by steps measured in numbers by ten per cent. The total vote of 1868 was 5,724,654; of 1872 was 6,465,805; of 1876 was 8,412,733; of 1880 was 9,210,970. Add ten per cent to this last total and the estimate for the vote of the 4th instant was 10,312,067, an approximation borne out by other calculations. and which will be found not far out of the dale, chairman of the State Democratic Committee, who has been elected to the House from Somner county, will be a candidate for the Speakership of that body. If so he ought to be elected as a small measure of recognition of the work he did, aided by his fellow-committee men, in securing the success of the Democratic ticket. Mr. Trougdale has proven himself a man of ability and worthy of the honor to which it is said he aspires He is a son of Ex-Gov. Trousdale and cousin of Col. Leon Trousdale, for many years one of the editors of the APPRAL.

By the recent invention of Mr. Patrick R. Delaney, who has long enjoyed the eredit of being one of the most expert telegraphers in the country, he has succeeded in perfecting a synchronous system of multiplex telegraphy, which enables twelve, thirty-six, or even seventy-two same wire at apparently the same instant of time. And not only that, but it is posaible by his invention to transmit autograph signatures, handwriting, maps, portraits, or pen drawings, thus aiding in the prevention of forgery and the detection of What next? Is there anything more peral ble in this direction?

Tun New York Herald, in answer to the Beening Post, explains that if "by any proceeding or method, not now apparent or eonesivable, the vote of that State were thrown out in counting the electoral vote, the election would not then go to the House, because Cleveland would still have a majority of the electors. With New York State he has a majority of thirty-seven, and as that State has thirty-six votes he would have without it a majority of one. It is not necessary that for the election of a President he shall have a majority of the whole 401. He must have a majority of the whole aumber appointed." The language of the constitution is: "The person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number of electors appointed in the college of manking an effort to this making an effort to the family and effort, Miss also a youngest daughter, Miss Katie, the base has plusted in counting the electors with he responsible duties involved in counting the electors. A PANILY ROLD ON OFFICE. There are old families in Washington who regard a certain position under the government as an heir-loom. It is said that there is a clerk in the Treasury Department whose identical position was held by his grandfather in 1798. Later the clerkship fell to his father and then to himself. One notable example of this furnished by a Clark family. In 1829 George Clark was appointed a counter of postage stamps in the Postofilee Department. He held this position until 1855, when he secured it for his son Henry, and then died. Henry held it until 1869, though in the meantime he had been made a counter of canceled money orders instead of stamps. In 1869, wishing to engage in other business, Henry Clark, through the influence of Senator Terry, had the place assigned to his eldest daugh-ter, May. Miss May held it for six years, prevention of forgery and the detection of when she got married, and under the criminals by telegraphing their portraits.

He thought it had been transmitted to him from his father, or that he had gotten it from a superstitious nurse. When a amall boy he walked a mile to school, and he said that on more than one day he had traversed the distance three times, making six miles in all, before he felt safe in entering the schoolhouse.
